Dear [redacted]

I invite you to join my Science and Technology Advisory Panel (STAP) to advise me in S&T areas of your expertise. STAP is presently chaired by [redacted]

[redacted] A list of all the members is enclosed. The panel meets quarterly for two-day sessions, and individual members work intermittently as their workloads permit on specific projects.

The Agency coordinator for this panel is [redacted] of the National Foreign Assessment Center and the executive secretary is [redacted]. If you accept my invitation, these gentlemen will be in touch with you concerning future meeting dates, clearances, and other administrative details-- which we hope to keep to a minimum.

I sincerely hope your present activities will permit you to take on this duty. I would look forward very much to a renewal of our association and I think you would find the topics of concern to STAP interesting and work with the panel members themselves stimulating. Best regards to you and [redacted]
